

Application for Remote Independent Recruiter Role

Thank you for your interest in FlowHire! We strive to bring the most competitive compensation model for our independent Recruiter consultants nationwide and we would be happy to have you join the FlowHire network. To apply for the Independent Recruiter Role, please submit the following to dflower@flowhire.com:

- 1) A basic cover letter introducing your recruiting or staffing sales background. Please include the industries that you have served thus far, and if you would be interested in having access to recruiting, staffing sales, or both.
- 2) A resume or CV with your work experience
- 3) Please provide two professional references from either a previous employer or client who you staffed.

Why join FlowHire?

FlowHire provides access for Staffing Sales Professionals and Recruiters to independently consult based on the amount of projects they would like to take on. Here's the breakdown:

Sales Professionals:

Independent sales professionals who would like to have more recruiting attention to their requirements or who would like assistance with requirements outside of their recruiting specialty can receive half of the placement fees by adding your requirement to the FlowHire network (after applicable FlowHire services fees are managed). We will help pair you with an experienced, industry-specific Recruiter who can assist you in closing out additional requirements.

Recruiters:

Recruiters who are interested in joining the FlowHire network can have access to additional recruiting projects by using the FlowHire platform. By learning more about your previous recruiting roles, we can help pair you with the right requirements to work on either an hourly recruiting rate or as a direct placement. The hourly recruiting rate will be based on how much you would like to bill yourself per hour. For direct placement positions, the recruiter will be entitled to half the recruiting fee (after the FlowHire services fees).

Notes:

FlowHire can staff professionals across the United States and U.S. territories. As of right now, FlowHire is not working in the Chicagoland area or Northern Illinois region.
